1. Why do we collect personal data?

We collect personal data, information and views in the context of "targeted consultation activities" with a view to assist in the development of a framework of commitments for human rights cities. Such activities may include: collecting information on cities practices in human rights, views on the content of an outline of the framework and ideas on what a framework of commitments for human rights cities could include.

These targeted consultation activities are a direct follow up to the FRA Expert Meeting on human rights cities that took place on 27-28 November 2019 in Brussels. The Expert Meeting aimed to bring together a group of human rights cities cities partners and practitioners to help FRA develop a framework of commitments for human rights cities in Europe. Participants to the expert meeting will be involved in a serie of targeted consultations in 2020 to follow up on initial inputs and ideas on the framework of commitments given at the Expert Meeting. 2. What kind of personal data does the Agency collect?

The Agency collects personal data related to identification and contact details, specifically only name and surname.

3. How do we collect your personal data?

The Agency will collect and process personal data using different methods (Word document, emails).

4. Who is responsible for the processing your personal data?

The Agency is responsible for the processing of your personal data. The Head of Unit Institutional Cooperation and Networks is responsible for this processing operation.

5. Which is the legal basis for this processing operation?

The consultation will support the implementation of an activity included in FRA project "D.1.2 Coperation with EU Member States, National human rights institutions and equality bodies". This project includes an activity aiming at developing a framework of commitments for human rights cities to support the implementation and protection of fundamental rights at local level.

Therefore, the processing is lawful under Article 5(a) of the Regulation (EU) No 2018/1725. In addition, since the participation to the consultation is not mandatory, the processing of the personal data is also in accordance with Article 5(d) of Regulation (EU) No 2018/1725.

6. Who can see your data?

Your personal data are stored in our document library (DMS). Access is restricted to authorised staff members of the Agency who are dealing with the collection of this ninformation and the analysis of the feedback.

7. Do we share your data with other organisations?

Personal data is processed by specific staff in the Agency.

Information collected through the questionnaire will assist the Agency in developing a detailed draft of the framework of commitments.

Practices collected under'part C' of the questionnaire will enrich the draft framework of commitments, however, the information related to "self-assessment" will not be released publicly. Information gathered under the specific column "self-assessment" is compiled for information purposes in the context of the development of the framework of commitments and upcoming related activities with human rights cities and partners such as exchange of practice or peer learning.

FRA will not prepare a consultation report following up this consultation. However, some key findings might be shared during meetings with participants to this consultation without associating answers to any individuals.

8. Do we intend to transfer your personal data to Third Countries/International Organizations No

9. When we will start the processing operation?

We will start the processing operation upon receipt of respondents' feedback on the FRA consultation.

PRIVACY NOTICE 10. How long do we keep your data?

The Agency will keep your personal data for up to one year from the date of the consultation was launched by FRA, that is until 25 April 2021.

11. How can you control your data?

You can access, modify or delete your personal data by sending an email request to human_rights_systems@fra.europa.eu.

11.1 How valuable is your consent for us?

Since the consultation is not mandatory, the processing is lawful because "the data subject has unambiguously given his or her consent". The consent will be given by responding to the consultation and sending back to FRA the questionnaire filled-in.

Moreover, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time, and we will delete your data or restrict its processing.

11.2 Your data protection rights

Under data protection law, you have rights we need to make you aware of. The rights available to you depend on our reason for processing your information. You are not required to pay any charges for exercising your rights.

a. Can you access your data?
