Additional Information

I have nearly 10 years of legal practise and now more than 6 years I'm in various leadership positions, primarily in civil sector organizations. In these organizations I was in charge of financial, personnel and project management. They have participated or are participating in the implementation of various types of projects in the field of youth work and in the field of rule of law and environmental protection.

As part of my legal practice, I worked for 3 years as a lawyer at the Legal Aid Center and later in a law firm as an advocacy clerk. I devoted myself to the human rights agenda not only in the framework of the legal practice mentioned above, but also in the framework of my doctoral studies at the Faculty of Law of the Paneuropean University in the field of international law and the European Union law.

Currently I work as the executive director of VIA IURIS, which is an independent civil association dedicated to justice, the rule of law and environmental protection, with an emphasis on involving the public in public policy-making processes.
