Luxembourg	2014	ECRI Report. ECRI Conclusions on the implementation of the recommendations in respect of LUXEMBOURG subject to interim follow-up. Adopted on 11 December 2014	https://www.coe.int/web/european-commission-against-racism-and-intolerance/luxe...	Racism & xenophobia, Discrimination, Ethnic profiling	ECRI | European Commission against Racism and Intolerance | Council of Europe	ECRI notes that the Luxembourg Consultative Commission on Human Rights (CCDH) recommended that the government establish a "Human Rights House" combining several national institutions responsible for promoting and protecting human rights, namely the CCDH, the Centre for Equal Treatment (CET), the Ombudsman Committee for Children's Rights and the Ombudsman. The possible establishment of a Human Rights House and the attachment of the institutions concerned to parliament would serve to increase their independence and neutrality. The Luxembourg authorities have informed ECRI of their support for an identical proposal by the CET but do not, however, refer to enabling it to take part in legal proceedings or requiring the persons or bodies to which it addresses itself to reply.	The working methods for the preparation of the reports involve documentary analyses, a visit to the country concerned, and then a confidential dialogue with the national authorities.	ECRI's reports are analyses based on a great deal of information gathered from a wide variety of sources.	Not applicable - national level
