DATABASE 2012-2024 ON ANTI-MUSLIM HATRED

Research findings

Country code	Year	Reference details title	Reference details URL	Main thematic focus	Institution	Key findings - Short summary	Methodology (Qualitative/Quantitative and exact type used, questionnaires etc)	Sample details and representativeness	Area/location of interest - NUTS3 level

Country code	Year	Reference details title	Reference details URL	Main thematic focus	Institution	Key findings - Short summary	Methodology (Qualitative/Quantitative and exact type used, questionnaires etc)	Sample details and representativeness	Area/location of interest - NUTS3 level
Netherlands	2022	Akkermans, M. and Kloosterman, R. (2022), Experienced Discrimination. Statistical Trends (Gediscrimineerd gevoeld? Statistische trends), The Hague, Statistics Netherlands.	https://www.cbs.nl/nl-nl/longread/statistische-trends/2022/gediscrimineerd-gevo...	Discrimination	The Netherlands, Statistics Netherlands (CBS)	11 % of the respondents say they have felt discriminated against in the past 12 months. This amounts to more than 1.6 million people. More than one in three respondents (36%) who felt discriminated against in the past 12 months say this was because of their race. 22 % of the respondents of Moroccan origin felt discriminated against on the grounds of their race or skin colour in 2021. This amounts to 63,7 % of the respondents in this group who experienced discrimination in 2021. 18,3 % of the respondents of Turkish origin felt discriminated against on the grounds of their race in 2021. This amounts to 53,4 % of the respondents in this group who experienced discrimination in 2021. The differences in experienced discrimination by religion or belief are relatively large. Among Muslims, 18 % felt discriminated against because of their religion and 16 % among Jews. Among Hindus, 4 % and 2 % among Buddhists experienced discrimination. Less than 1 % of Roman Catholics and those without religion or philosophy of life felt discriminated against on the grounds of religion or philosophy of life (or not having one) in 2021. Among Muslims with discrimination experiences, more than 6 in 10 said it was on the grounds of their religion. Of those with a Protestant or another Christian faith who felt discriminated against in 2021, over 2 in 10 said this.	In this article Statistics Netherlands published its finding about discrimination from the 13th edition of The Netherlands' Safety Monitor (Veiligheidsmonitor). This monitor monitors the attitudes and experiences of the general population of the Netherlands regarding habitability and safety of the neighbourhood, fear and prevention of crime, victimisation and the attitudes towards the police and municipality. The 13th edition of this monitor is based on aa survey conducted among 173,473 residents of the Netherlands of 15 years and older in the period 4 August 2021 – 31 October 2021. In this edition for the first time respondents were asked whether they had felt discriminated against in the past 12 months.	Survey among representative sample of 73,473 residents of the Netherlands of 15 years and older in the period 4 August 2021 – 31 October 2021.	Not applicable - national level

DISCLAIMER The information presented here is collected under contract by the FRA's research network FRANET. The information and views contained do not necessarily reflect the views or the official position of the FRA.

http://fra.europa.eu/en/databases/anti-muslim-hatred/

Copyright © 2025 European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights