

Research findings

| Country code | Year | Reference details title | Reference details URL | Main thematic focus | Institution | Key findings - Short summary | Methodology (Qualitative/Quantitative and exact type used, questionnaires etc) | Sample details and representativeness | Area/location of interest - NUTS3 level |
|--------------|------|---|---|---------------------|--|--|---|---------------------------------------|---|
| Czechia | 2024 | Ministry of the Interior (2024) Report on Extremism and Prejudicial Hate for the Year 2023. | https://mv.gov.cz/soubor/zprava-za-rok-2023-extremismus-a-predsudecna-nenavist... | Hate crime | Czechia, Ministry of the Interior, Department of Security Policy | The 2023 report on extremism in Czechia notes persistent anti-Muslim sentiment, with Islamophobia continuing to feature in xenophobic rhetoric, especially within extremist and disinformation groups. Some media outlets perpetuate anti-Muslim stereotypes, often framing Muslim migrants as threats. Although no significant religiously motivated extremist events were reported, the Czech Muslim community largely self-regulates to prevent radicalization. However, it remains cautious of state institutions due to historical anti-Muslim discourse. | The section on prejudicial hate is based, among other sources, on materials from the Security Information Service and the Czech Police, specifically specialists in extremism from the National Center for Combating Terrorism, Extremism, and Cybercrime of the Criminal Police and Investigation Service, as well as regional police directorates | N/A - not applicable/available | Not applicable - national level |

DISCLAIMER The information presented here is collected under contract by the FRA's research network FRANET. The information and views contained do not necessarily reflect the views or the official position of the FRA.

<http://fra.europa.eu/en/databases/anti-muslim-hatred/>

Copyright © 2026 European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights