DATABASE 2012-2024 ON ANTI-MUSLIM HATRED

Research findings

Country code	Year	Reference details title	Reference details URL	Main thematic focus	Institution	Key findings - Short summary	Methodology (Qualitative/Quantitative and exact type used, questionnaires etc)	Sample details and representativeness	Area/location of interest - NUTS3 level
Sweden	2023	Sweden, Swedish National Council for Crime Prevention (2023). Hate crimes reported to the police 2022.	https://bra.se/statistik/statistik-om-rattsvasendet/hatbrottsstatistik#:~:text=...	Hate crime	Sweden, Swedish National Council for Crime Prevention (Brottsförebyggande rådet)	The number of police reports in 2022 in which one or more hate crime motives could be identified amounted to 2,695. In several reports, more than one hate crime motive was identified, resulting in a total of 2,834 identified hate crime motives. Overall, the most common hate crime motives were xenophobic and racist hate crimes (53 percent), followed by hate crimes against religious groups (16 percent). Among hate crimes against religious groups, "Islamophobic" hate crimes were the most common, accounting for 8 percent of all hate crime motives. About half (52 percent) of all hate crimes against religious groups had an "Islamophobic" motive. Among the "Islamophobic" hate crimes, the most common type of crime was harassment (34 percent). The second most common type of crime was agitation against a population group (19 percent).	Quantitative (statistics on incidents)	N/A - not applicable/available	Not applicable - national level

DISCLAIMER The information presented here is collected under contract by the FRA's research network FRANET. The information and views contained do not necessarily reflect the views or the official position of the FRA.

http://fra.europa.eu/en/databases/anti-muslim-hatred/

Copyright © 2025 European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights