Austria	Sanitary conditions	Sanitary facilities have to be designed in such a way, that also prisoners in common rooms have to be able to use them in a humane way.	Code of Conduct for Detention (Anhalteordnung)	When the holding cells at the Innsbruck correctional institution are occupied by more than one person, the lack of a partition around the toilets violates the requirement to protect human dignity. The NPM advocates that a privacy screen and an odour barrier separate the sanitary facilities from the rest of the cell in all holding cells at the Innsbruck correctional institution.	2015	https://volksanwaltschaft.gv.at/en/reports#anchor-index-2950
Austria	Sanitary conditions	Sanitary facilities have to be equipped hygienically, and designed in such a way, that prisoners can at any time use them in a decent way. Cells have to be equipped with separate toilets. Each prisoner has to receive as much warm water daily so that he/she can clean himself/herself properly. As often as needed, but at least twice a week, he/she has to be given access to warm shower or bathing. Austria	Sanitary conditions	Sanitary facilities have to be designed in such a way, that also prisoners in common rooms have to be able to use them in a humane way.	Code of Conduct for Detention (Anhalteordnung)	Correctional institutions: Inmate cells (including single cells) must have toilet facilities that are separated from the rest of the inmate cell. Inmate cells that house more than one person must have structurally partitioned toilet facilities. Sanitary facilities must be hygienic and designed so that prison inmates can take care of their bodily needs at any time with a modicum of decency. Police detention centres: Single cells under Section 5 of the Detention Regulation must be equipped with a sink, a supply of hot and cold water, a sit-down toilet, a bed, and a table with seating. Tiled security cells must have a (squat) toilet with flushing function, a heatable reclining surface or mattress and firmly mounted furniture (bed, table, seating). It must be ensured that detainees have access to hygienic sanitary facilities. Privacy must be ensured through structural or organisational measures. Toilets in cells for multiple inmates must be designed so that they are completely separate from the rest of the inmate cell. The mattresses and textiles issued to detainees must be clean. Detainees should be able to shower at least twice per week - and to shower daily under special circumstances. Detainees must be informed of their opportunity to shower. All detainees must be given access to hygiene articles. Women must be provided with the necessary hygiene articles during menstruation.	2017	https://volksanwaltschaft.gv.at/downloads/12480/AOB-NPM-Report-2017.pdf
