

FRA's Charter tools for legal practitioners

Charterpedia

Charterpedia is an online database of European (CJEU and ECtHR) and national case law that makes use of the Charter. It currently includes close to 2,000 cases. The case law is searchable by various criteria, including Charter rights and country. For every Charter right, it also outlines relevant provisions in EU Member State constitutions, as well as relevant EU legislation and international legal documents.

In addition, FRA collects academic references to the Charter, including in less commonly used languages, and references to the use of the Charter in parliamentary debates. In 2021, Charterpedia will include information on the use of the Charter in national legislative processes. FRANET, FRA's multidisciplinary research network in all EU Member States, collects the data for Charterpedia. Note that there is also a Charterpedia-app which at the moment only covers some parts (mainly case law). In 2021 the Charter app versions will be redesigned so that all sections will be covered.

Charter handbook on the applicability of the Charter

In 2018, FRA published a handbook entitled ‘Applying the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union in law and policymaking at national level’. It provides national law- and policymakers, legal practitioners and civil servants with practical guidance. In 2019, the handbook was downloaded 3,000 times, showing significant demand.

The first part provides a general overview. It explains how the Charter relates to national and international human and fundamental rights instruments, how to check when and how it applies, and how to apply it in practice.

The second part includes two tools: a practical checklist on the Charter’s applicability and a Charter compliance check for legal practitioners to use in their daily work. The handbook is available in all official EU languages, with the exception of Maltese and Gaelic.

NEW: Charter e-guidance

The Charter e-guidance is an e-learning tool tailor-made for judges. However, it can be of equal relevance and assistance to other legal practitioners. It aims at providing practical guidance on the specific question of when and how the Charter of Fundamental Rights applies in a given case at national level. The tool therefore concentrates on Art. 51 of the Charter.

It has two components:

1. A step-by-step guidance allowing to run a specific case through a series of questions, including the relevant replies – all concerning the applicability of the Charter;
2. A set of concrete examples of cases allowing to test and exercise one’s knowledge.

The currently available pilot version can be found under the following link: <https://e-learning.fra.europa.eu/course/view.php?id=47>.

COMING SOON:

NEW: Fundamental Rights Report 2020: Focus Chapter dedicated to Charter

At the occasion of the Charter’s entry into force ten years ago, the agency has dedicated the focus section of its Fundamental Rights Report to the Charter: “Unlocking the Charter’s full potential”: https://fra.europa.eu/sites/default/files/fra\_uploads/fra-2020-fundamental-rights-report-2020-focus\_en.pdf.

The Focus Chapter is currently available in following languages:

Fundamental Rights Report: chapter on Charter

From 2013 onwards, the agency has been collecting Charter-related national cases decided by national high courts. This collection is done through FRANET, the agency’s multidisciplinary research network. The analysis appears annually in a dedicated chapter of its annual fundamental rights report, which is one of the most often downloaded chapters of this report. Alongside national case law, the chapter also deals with the use of the Charter in the legislative process (for instance examples how the Charter was used in impact assessments of bills) and parliamentary debates. It also refers to promising practices with regard to the use of the Charter at national level and relevant academic literature on the Charter.

FRA Opinion – 4/2018

At the request of the European Parliament FRA delivered the analysis “Challenges and opportunities for the implementation of the Charter of Fundamental Rights”:
https://fra.europa.eu/sites/default/files/fra\_uploads/fra-opinion-04-2018\_charter-implementation.pdf.

FRA Handbooks on thematic areas

FRA has over the years published various handbooks covering both Charter and ECHR case law in thematic fields like asylum law, equality law, data protection or children rights. The Series is a cooperation between FRA and the European Court of Human Rights. The handbooks are available in most EU languages and regularly updated.

FRA’s Charter Box

FRA has compiled products focusing on the Charter in a “Charter box”. FRA sent this, for instance, to all MEPs who serve on the fundamental rights and constitutional affairs committees. The Agency will continue to disseminate its deliverables to relevant stakeholders.

Country specific Charter factsheets in national languages

These factsheets are available in EN and all national languages. Charter country sheets give information in the national language about the Charter, its role, and how it is used in the Member State. They are available on FRA's website, and can also be ordered from the Publications Office of the EU.
